

Handling of the deceased

All persons handling the deceased shall wear protective covering including gloves, masks, and gowns.

All bodies shall be identified and labeled using a photo and written documentation for record keeping. Information should include where the body was found, who found the body, and how the body is identified.

The body shall be labeled with a tag and placed in a body bag or large garbage bag.

The wrapped body may be temporarily placed underground for storage until post mortem personnel can properly exhume and transfer the remains.
