

Protocol for Food distribution:

Cape Meares residents and visitors have been asked to have one go bag per person with supplies to survive for 3 days. This includes food and water for themselves and their pet. The recommended caloric supply is 2-3,000 calories per day per person.

An inventory of food supplies will be documented at the registration table as survivors gather to assess the food needs of the group.

Food resources for each of the sheds will be made available to everyone regardless of whether they have their own go-bag or have access to a food cache at their residence. Food storage distribution will be documented.

Any members of our community that are adept at hunting and fishing will be in a good leadership position to teach survivors who are not as skilled.

Immediate food needs:

MRE's distributed as needed.

Go bag supplies

Long term:

Begin to use the stored food supply in the shed as needed.

Two options:

1. Individual distribution with the calculation being supply divided by number of people. The distributed food would be taken to the individual's family cooking spot when it is safe to do so.
2. Community cooking. Again, the food prepared and cooked will be calculated by serving size and number of survivors served. Cooking stations should be set up at the shelter areas or perhaps an available and intact garage.

The food supply from the sheds may become exhausted and there may be a need for some supplies to be air lifted to our location. Hunting and fishing and trapping may make some food choices available.
